“ My family was close to the Davis family growing up. Alice and my mom had been good friends and I remember her as one of my mom's closest friends for a long time. Very fond memories of the family - and saddened to hear of the loss. May God provide comfort only He can supply. May you rejoice in a future reunion. ”

“ My mom and Alice were really good friends as we were growing up. We'd all pile into Alice's blue station wagon often and go to Scottsbluff. Alice and my mom and 5 kids. Some of us riding in the far back seat that faced the cars behind us. Alice always chewed gum and as she chewed it made popping sounds. US kids would do the up and down arm gesture to get the semi trucks to honk, and of course played slug bug. When we got to Scottsbluff we'd all go to Scotty's for lunch and sit on the picnic tables outside. Alice also babysat my brother and I when they went somewhere. She's the first person I ever knew with a microwave and I couldn't believe how fast she could make a meal using it. She had a little red weiner do named Fifi..That was also the first daschund's I'd ever seen. They weren't nearly as popular then as they are now. My mom and Alice had yard sales together, and we often went to special events at Alice's church. We just spent lots of time with the Davis family growing up. Alice holds a very special place in my heart and always will. Now I guess she and my mom can cruise heaven in the big blue station wagon and eat out without kids in tow.
