Dora was born March 25, 1932 in Fort Lupton, Colorado to Cora and Albert Baros. The family moved to Hartville, Wyoming in 1945 where she received her early education. She later earned her GED and was awarded Salutatorian in 1975. She took college classes and worked at EWC but had to retire in 1986 because of back problems. She married Manuel Ramos in Cheyenne, Wyoming in 1949 where they lived and raised eight children. They divorced in 1981 and she moved to Torrington, Wyoming.

Dora's hobbies were crocheting, reading, watching baseball, football and college basketball games on television. Her favorite teams were the Colorado Rockies, the Denver Broncos and the Wyoming Cowboys.

Dora is survived by one daughter Valerie Herrera of Craig, Colorado; two sons Patrick and Mario of Torrington, Wyoming; a brother Alfonso of Ft. Collins, Colorado; and numerous grandchildren, great grandchildren, nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her parents; three sons Dennis, Ric and Carlos; two daughters Regina and Tara Lynn Ramos; four sisters; and two brothers.

“ I have many, many fond memories of Dora when she worked in the Secretarial Pool at Eastern Wyoming College. She also took French from me for several semesters and was devoted to learning French. She once told me that she would prop up her French textbook in front of her so that she could study it while washing the evening dishes!

She was such a lovely person. My sincere condolences to her family.
