“ I'll always hold a place in my heart for this dear woman and cherish the memories I have of her and the things she taught me in life and cooking. I'll always remember the times spent canning and watching her cook as I took notes of all our favorite recipes she made that she did from her memory. The time and love she gave to our children and the card games we played with family and friends. She loved to crochet and sew also and always shared her special hand made items with family and friends. May she rest peacefully in heaven.
