“ Dear Cody, Danny and all of the family,
Upon reading of the passing of your Father, I remembered all of the happy times that I spent at your home place, enjoying the company and friendship of both your Mom and Dad. Of course there were other times remembered when I would go " out north" with my Dad on some important "errand", which was just a chance for Dad to go and visit with old friends. And of course, I was always tickled to go! Bill was one of those special people who always touched others in a way that he probably never even knew about , but he was very special and will always be remembered with fond thoughts.
We are wishing your family the best in love and peace during this time.
